“ My name is Rose Mitchell, Associate Dean for Student Affairs at Bloomfield College. I am a proud alumni of the College as well.

I was a student in Professor Gibson's Economics class in the 90's. She was smart, firm, yet oh so witty and kind. She always had a smile on her face even when she knew students were terrified to register for her class or take her exams! :-)
My classmates and I would say, " She is such a demanding professor! How does she expect us to learn all of this micro/macro economic stuff?" We all laughed and then said, "She cares about us and wants us to learn." Although we agreed on her dedication to student learning, into her classroom we went in panic mode to take her exam. :-) I was relieved, happy and proud that I passed her class. She inspired me to earn my passing grade.

Professor Gibson was wonderful. Now an angel in the heavens, I know she is still smiling and teaching all of the other angels about economics. I hope they too earn a passing grade. :-)

My deepest condolences and prayers to the family.

Rose Mitchell

“ I remember Eleanor as both a fellow member of the Bloomfield College community and a neighbor in Bloomfield. I would often see her striding along through the park; I always admired her perfect posture! She would never fail to greet me with a smile and it was so nice to have her local even after she retired from teaching at the College. She was proudly independent, even battling our difficult landlord, another reason to admire her!

I will always remember her fondly. Sincerely, Barbara Isacson, Bloomfield College
