“ My Uncle Pete had such a great sense of humor, a quick wit and knew how to captivate his audience when telling a story. He will be missed. Pooh

“ To all the members of Pete's family and to his many friends and colleagues, I am so sad to learn that Pete (that is how I've always known him) has left us. I'd been trying to call him this past week, receiving a "not in service" message that now makes sense, although I wish it were otherwise. I knew Pete almost my whole life. He was ONE DAY older than I. And it goes deeper than that. My mom and grandmother were regular shoppers at the Acme market on Belleville Ave. where Pete's dad worked the produce dept. for years. So because Pete and I were friends, THEY became friends. Pete and I were proud members of The Original Eleven - - our club of school buddies organized during our high school years (even though some of us had known each other from grade school) The Original Eleven exists to this day, thanks to Facebook. The club will miss Pete's humor, friendliness, his seeming total recall of high school happenings and Pete's easy smile. Oh, and his love for 1956 Plymouths - which I STILL haven't figured out.

There are more memories rattling around in my brain; I'm in a bit of a shocked state right now but I want Pete to know, if possible, I pray he has a peaceful Rest as he proceeds to his next Destination.

Again, condolences and prayers of strength to Pete's family and friends. 🙏🇺🇸

ME

Thank you John for your memories and very kind words. My father talked about you and the original 11 often.

My sympathy tp Peters family. Have known Peter since I was a little girl. We always had a lot to talk about. His Dad Uncle Joe was a card and talking about our families and their adventures on the weekend always brought fond memories of all the Yacavones. RIP 🙏
