“ Our cousins are some of the people who we know the longest in life. I have so many memories of my cousin Sammy. As a little girl growing up on Kenmore Avenue, Sammy was one of my older cousins who always made me feel special. He would call me his Cleopatra and we would role-play, with him as Mark Antony. In more recent years, we would keep in touch through Facebook and family gatherings. He was so genuine. Always thinking of others; offering kind words along with his infectious smile and great sense of humor.

He wore many hats over the years – actor, doorman, chauffeur, music historian. Anyone who knew him – loved him! He had a heart of gold and was such a kind soul. He was especially fond of my sister Angela who is now in memory care. They always had a close bond and would pal around together in their younger days in Vailsburg. It's unfortunate that they never got to see each other one last time, but he would always ask about her and remind me how special she was to him. I hope he knew how special he was to our family!

I will never forget you Sam! Until we meet again my dear cousin.
Rest in peace.

“ There are many memories to share about Sammy. We were 13 cousins and grew up in the same house. We did everything together; went to school together, played games , played outside winter ,spring ,summer and fall; roller skated, rode our bikes to Bamberger Hill, went for swimming lessons, music lessons, went to the ,voices, bowling. We went out for mischief night, Trick or Treating, Christmas Caroling, and so on and so on. We played school to our younger cousins, had funerals for stray kittens. We were somewhat like the Little Rascals. We had a wonderful childhood always happy and having fun. We had each other to do everything.as we grew older we started to have different interests.Sammy’s was love of music. He had a huge collection of records that no one else had. He loved the Supremes especially Diana Ross until the day he left us. He also loved Lee Grant from Peyton Place. He met with her from time to time. Sammy was handsome, caring, and loving. He befriended everyone he met. He had a wonderful personality and everyone loved him as soon as they met him he would give anyone the shirt off his back. Sammy was very theatrical as he was An actor through his college years. He should’ve pursued that career. He could tell stories that would make you laugh until you cried. He was funny and loved kids. So my memories are many which I will cherish always. Sammy , I love you my cousin ...Rest in our Lords peaceuntil we meet again.😞💔🙏

I don't have a single memory of my childhood without Sammy. Like GraceAnn said we were extremely close. We did everything together, every day! I used to walk with him on Saturday to get his haircut. I would stare at him walking home as I thought he was so handsome. I used to say he looked like Perry Como! I guess I had a crush on him and thought I could marry my cousin! We remained close through our teen years. A part of me has died with losing my dear cousin. I will also cherish every memory. I'm glad he is no longer in pain and is with his Mom and others who loved him so much. Rest In Peace Sammy. I love you forever.
